SEASONAL MIX

Fall is the strongest season, but demand is not seasonal-dependent

Fall leads on spend and average value, but the four seasons remain broadly balanced.

Purchase volume stays close to 1,000 per season.

Use fall as a peak, not a dependency

CUSTOMER SHAPE

The customer base is broad, with clear concentration points

Signal	Value	Commercial read
Gender mix	2,652 male · 1,248 female	Keep the offer inclusive
Most common size	M: 1,755 purchases	Prioritize medium depth
Second size	L: 1,053 purchases	Protect large availability
Top payment methods	PayPal 677 · credit card 671 · cash 670	Keep digital checkout frictionless
Average customer age	44.1 years	Spend stays near $60 across age bands

The base is broad, but medium and large sizes plus easy digital payment are the clearest concentration points.

COMMERCIAL RESPONSE

Three moves to turn the pattern into growth

1. Protect the core: Merchandise clothing and accessories as the volume engine.
2. Raise basket value: Cross-sell footwear and accessories around clothing purchases.
3. Activate cadence: Use fall as the commercial peak, then tailor reminders to monthly, quarterly, and three-month shoppers.

Track category mix, repeat rate, subscription conversion, and average order value together.
